Heard of a bank that invests back into your sporting community?

How does the "Port Lincoln, Community Bank Project, Bendigo Bank" sound? A dedicated steering committee has been formed to investigate the establishment of a Community Bank and are seeking pledges of support from interested persons who may wish to have a financial interest in the formation of such an asset.

Pledges are indicative only and not binding in any way, although pledge holders will be offered shares in the new bank. They anticipate shares will be on offer later in the year. The steering committee see sporting and community clubs as being perfectly placed to benefit from a Port Lincoln Community Bank, as they are the ideal recipients of grants resulting from bank profits.

If you would like to obtain further information about involvement in this project contact Greg Eden 8683 3077, Steve Prout 8682 5666 or Glen Karutz 8682 2077

Sporting Notes from Nyngan - Hunting!

The most common recreational sport for myself out here is "Hunting pig hunters", followed by a number of other associated but not recognised sports including seeing who can jump out of the ute the quickest to race to the drivers side door and rip the keys from the ignition of a pig hunting trespassers car. So far Terry is winning, but I'm not too far behind. For example, it's close to midnight and you receive a call from your neighbours "there are lights on your property". You conduct the 'Jeans Sprint', unofficially world records have been broken with how quickly they can be put on over the top of your PJs when you have absolutely no time to get dressed and get to the destination of your newly allocated mission.

'Nocturnal driving' see's you race to the car using no lights, then drive to the required location using the bear minimum lighting. Find your way to the middle of the paddock and watch your prey, who 9 times out of 10 will be illegal pig hunting trespassers not people looking for some assistance such as a broken down vehicle, keys locked in the car or even those seeking directions. Patience is a virtue as you sit in the car waiting until this foreign vehicle gets close, very close. You use the time to talk tactics "What are we going to say, what are we going to do?" and when the adrenaline kicks in (or for me it started when I had to get my jeans on, or was it when the phone rang at such a late hour). Ok the prey is close, whack on your high beam and the biggest spotlight you can find and they react just like rabbits - they pull up in one flurry of a hurry.

Now... Your car may still be moving but it should at least be slowing down as you come careering across the ploughed ground approaching the villains. Jump out and do the 20/15/10metre 'Ignition Sprint' around to the drivers side door and while they are startled, rip their keys out of their ignition!

"Sporting Notes from Nyngan - Hunting" is to be continued....
